Forecast For London & Southeast England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Saturday 24 Apr 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Chilly start, but then dry and warm and largely sunny.

Today:
After a chilly start it will become warm for many inland areas, especially in the west. Coastal areas will be cooler, and often windy, but everywhere will be dry and largely sunny. Maximum temperature 17 deg C (63 deg F).

Tonight:
Dry with largely clear skies overnight, allowing temperatures to quickly fall with a slight frost developing again for some prone rural locations. Breezy along the coast. Minimum temperature -1 deg C (30 deg F).

Sunday:
Breezy with patchy cloud and sunny spells, and often windy along the coast. Feeling cold across the southeast, especially for Kent, with the highest temperatures across Hampshire. Maximum temperature 15 deg C (59 deg F).

Outlook for Monday to Wednesday:
Monday dry, largely sunny but perhaps cloudier along the coast. Tuesday mainly cloudy with a few showers arriving. Wednesday scattered showers. Temperatures generally below average, but cool for the southeast.
